

Why Religion-Outside-The-Box (ROTB)?

Many adults struggle to feel content or blessed. They are sufficiently physically, emotionally, and intellectually well off, but their spiritual lives – their sense of purpose, their sense of connection, their sense of wonder – have stagnated. They suffer. They feel doubt and shame. They are scared and isolated. They lack peace and joy. And they are on the web where they can be helped.

Originally, I was going to write, “What ROTB does” and “Without ROTB.” But then I realized that ROTB doesn’t do this work; you and I do this important work together. (Sure, I clock more hours, but I do it with your help.) Consequently, I changed instances of “ROTB” with “you.”

What You Do

You empower adults in their spiritual lives with neither dogma nor shame. You focus on teaching adults tools and techniques on how to be spiritual. You don’t try to gather adherents but rather to authorize adults in all aspects of their spiritual-religious lives. You offer multiple, non-preachy, rational (and even joyous and fun) avenues for connections and transformation: The 77% Weekly Newsletter – a spiritual newsletter enjoyed by over 3,000 people, 40/52 weeks a year. 2-minute spiritual exercises, podcasts, and web-posts delivered to thousands via video, audio, meme, and PDF. Services, classes, and counseling, available in person and via the web.

ROTB opens people’s eyes to religion and gives people different, practical, ideas, which makes me feel warm and fuzzy on the inside. At first, I wasn’t sure how much one could glean from interacting on video, especially because it was kind of chaotic as everyone was still joining for the first 5 min, but I was surprised at how much I had learned during the take-always at the end. Everyone was engaged, and when you called on people to share who were not expecting it, they didn’t just make something up on the spot. Everyone actually did some spiritual yoga last night! I was not really expecting the level by which it affected people.
